CONCLUSION

Before concluding this report, I bow my head in reverence to God the almighty for the abundant blessings showered upon our institution and also to submit the report before all. I take this opportunity to express my deepest gratitude to our management, students, staff, parents and well-wishers for the whole hearted co-operation in making every activity of the school a grand success.

School is the first avenue of socialising for a child. With schools, children are exposed not only to new ideas but also to same aged compatriots. This instills sociable practices such as empathy, friendship, participation, assistance which turn out to be important in their adulthood.

Better education equals a better nation. Be educated and feel empowered.

Thank you,

Bincy Susan Titus,

Principal.
